Women in Green Hydrogen

Partnership Framework

A structured approach to long-term collaboration and institutional engagement

About Women in Green Hydrogen

Women in Green Hydrogen (WiGH) is a network of passionate women working in the green hydrogen sector. Our vision is to increase the visibility and amplify the voices of women working in green hydrogen.

The network provides a platform to connect, empower, and change.

Diversity is essential for a sector that thrives on innovation and new ideas. Our network works to promote the participation of women in conferences, expert talks, and relevant media to shape a more diverse and inclusive discourse in the world of green hydrogen.

Our goal is to build a community to foster knowledge exchange, connect women in green hydrogen, and create professional opportunities for our members.

We organise networking events and panels about relevant topics in green hydrogen, manage an international expert database, and offer a mentorship programme. We are also active on LinkedIn to increase visibility, promote activities and facilitate exchange.

Why has our partnership model evolved?

- WiGH has grown into an internationally recognised organisation connecting professionals, companies, associations, research institutions and public organisations.
- Our partnerships have become more ambitious and require greater coordination, communication and programme management.
- A purely mutual-exchange model is no longer sufficient to sustain the organisation.
- We have therefore introduced a transparent and sustainable Partnership Framework.
- Depending on the objectives of an organisation, WiGH offers two partnership models: Strategic Partnership and Institutional Partnership.

Two Ways to Partner with WiGH

1. Strategic Partnership

Looking to build something together?

Long-term collaboration with a mutually agreed Partnership Plan and Annual Partnership Contribution.

2. Institutional Partnership

Looking to demonstrate your organisation's commitment to diversity and inclusion in the hydrogen sector?

Flexible engagement through tailored partnership opportunities.

Strategic Partnership

Looking to build something together?

- Long-term collaborative relationship
- Annual Partnership Contribution (€2,000)
- Mutually agreed Partnership Plan
- Mutual exchange of activities, expertise, resources and opportunities
- Scope individually negotiated and formalised in a Partnership Agreement

Examples of Mutual Exchange

WiGH contributes

Amplifies WiGH initiatives

Every Strategic Partnership is tailored to the objectives of both organisations

Institutional Partnership

Looking to demonstrate your organisation's commitment to diversity and inclusion in the hydrogen sector?

- Designed for organisations seeking visibility, engagement and official recognition as a WiGH Partner.
- Partners select the engagement opportunities that best support their objectives.
- Contribution amount depending on selected activities.

Examples of engagement opportunities

- Preferential access to speaking opportunities at selected events
- Media visibility and industry presence engagement
- Official WiGH Partnership Recognition in corporate communications
- Website & Newsletter Presence
- WiGH Expert Database Sponsorship
- Talent Access & Career Promotion

Value from your organization through preferential access to benefits and services
